Thrill Slayer Succumbs in Puerto Rico

CHICAGO (AP) — Nathan F. Leopold, the brilliant son of a wealthy family who shocked the nation in 1924 when he and a friend murdered a young boy just for a thrill, has died in Puerto Rico, his attorney reported today.

Attorney Elmer Gertz said Leopold, 66, had died Sunday night at Mimya Hospital in the Santurce section of San Juan. He said death was caused by a heart attack.

Leopold was paroled from an Illinois penitentiary on March 13, 1958, after serving 33 years, six months and two days for the thrill slaying with Richard Loeb of 14-year-old Bobby Frank. Loeb was killed in a fight with another convict in 1936.

When he was released, Leopold went to Puerto Rico as a $10 a month laboratory technician in a missionary hospital. In 1959 he entered the University of Puerto Rico, took a masters degree in social medicine and went to work for the Puerto Rican health department.

In February 1961 Leopold married Trudy Feld Garcia de Quevedo, the middle-aged widow of a San Juan physician. Two years later he was discharged from parole and became a free man.

The Leopold-Loeb case was one of the most sensational of the 1920s and horrified the nation.

The nude body of the Frank boy, a distant relative of Loeb's, was found in a culvert on Chicago's South Side on May 22, 1924. He had been bludgeoned to death.

A pair of eyeglasses nearby led the police to Leopold, then 19 and the son of a vice president of Sears Roebuck. He implicated Loeb, who was 18. Clarence Darrow, considered the greatest defense lawyer of the time, defended them in a trial that lasted more than a month.

Darrow had the pair plead guilty so they would be tried before Judge John R. Gaverly without a jury. Then the lawyer fought to save them from execution, bringing forward a string of psychiatrists to testify that the youths were mentally ill but not legally insane. The lawyer closed with a three-day summation denouncing capital punishment.

Two weeks later Judge Gaverly sentenced the pair to life imprisonment for murder and 99 years for kidnapping. He recommended that they never be paroled.

Leopold and Loeb organized the prison correspondence school, and Leopold reorganized the prison library. Early in World War II he was a guinea pig in tests of new drugs for use against malaria. He also studied widely, learning 27 languages and became an authority in several sciences, including ornithology and mathematics.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson in 1949 commuted his 99-year kidnapping sentence to 85 years for his work in the malaria tests. This made him eligible for parole in 1953, but it was denied him then and again in 1955 and 1956. Two years later the board turned him loose.

Shortly before release he was asked if he felt he had paid his debt to society.

"Atonement, expiation, that's impossible for me to say," he replied. "I don't know how to measure punishment."

"I have been here 33 years. I have lost all the people near and dear to me—my father, my aunt, an elder brother. I have forfeited any chance to make any kind of a success in the world. I have forfeited a chance for a wife and family. Forfeited every chance for any happiness. Now whether that's enough I don't know. Other people will have to decide."

Two persons lost their lives on Arkansas highways this past weekend. Both were killed in separate accidents.

The Associated Press fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday. Thomas Jerome Gisriel, 46, of Costa Mesa, Calif., was killed Saturday night when he was struck by a truck as he stood beside his truck on Interstate 30 near Benton.

State Police said a tractor-trailer truck driven by Gisriel had been involved in an accident and he was hit by a truck that was unable to stop.

State Police said Betty Pickett, 19, of Little Rock was killed Sunday on U.S. 65 south of Pine Bluff when a car in which she was riding crossed the center line and hit another car.

U.S. Dollar Falls to Lowest Level in France But Climbs in Zurich Labor to Be Consulted on Phase Out

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. dollar fell today to the lowest level on the Paris market since France set up the two-tier system and also dropped in Frankfurt. But in Zurich the dollar was up slightly.

The turnover was too small in European markets for a real trend. London markets were closed for the August bank holiday.

Dealers on the Tokyo market reported the dollar holding steady in quiet trading. Trading opened slowly in Paris where banks quoted 5.34-5.35 financial francs to the dollar, down from 5.39-5.40 at the close Friday. Today's rate responded to a devaluation of about 3.8 per cent.

Dealers reported initial trade very quiet in Frankfurt, where the dollar opened at 3.3940 marks, down from Friday's closing price of 3.3970. Within the first hour, the dollar fell to 3.3925 marks but recovered somewhat to 3.3935.

The dollar opened in Zurich at 3.97-3.98 Swiss francs, up from 3.9625-3.9775 Friday. This amounted to a dollar devaluation of 2.2 per cent from Aug. 13 and 2.7 per cent from the previous official parity.

In Tokyo, the dollar held steady just above 341 yen. It closed at 341.60 in interbank dealings, a 5.1 per cent decline from its old value of 360 yen. During the day it traded as high as 341.70, but dealers estimated volume at less than $100 million.

Lt. Gen. Gordon M. Graham, commander of U.S. forces in Japan, ordered the temporary suspension of yen sales at U.S. military facilities in the country. He said the suspension would be lifted as soon as the monetary situation settled.

Finance Minister Mikio Mizuta called on the Japanese people to face the yen-dollar crisis as an "honorable agony" and overcome it to build a strong nation. Speaking in a televised discussion, he said the yen float and the 10 per cent U.S. surcharge on imports would hurt the Japanese economy. But he said the government plans massive spending, mainly in public projects, to stimulate the economy and employment and offset any adverse developments resulting from the U.S. defense of the dollar.

Enemy Makes 100 Attacks on Weekend Economic Program May Lead to Biggest Tax Cuts in a Decade

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces mounted nearly 100 attacks over the weekend in their haviest activity in four months but failed to disrupt the South Vietnamese lower house elections Sunday.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien of the South Vietnamese Command termed the attacks a "high point" of enemy activity but said he could not predict whether it would continue.

Official but incomplete reports said at least 41 South Vietnamese soldiers and 8 civilians were killed and 186 government troops and 53 civilians were wounded.

The allied commands claimed that 347 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were killed by South Vietnamese ground forces and allied air and artillery strikes.

The U.S. Command kept in force an alert confining all American troops to their bases except on official business. The command placed U.S. forces on the alert last Tuesday, saying at the time that there were indications the enemy was planning stepped up activity.

Continuation of the alert made clear that precautions also were being taken to keep Americans off the streets in expectation of political unrest and demonstrations among the South Vietnamese.

Rep. Mills Speaker at Fish Fry

MARION, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said here Sunday that a new "spirit" and a new "philosophy" were needed to "release those who unnecessarily suffer in our society."

He said that too many of the programs designed to help people are inadequate and the "people become unsensitive to the problems which the programs seek to treat."

Mills was the main speaker at the Third Annual John Gammon Fish Fry attended by about 500 persons. Mills complimented the Arkansas congressional delegation and said he hoped the delegation could rest this summer without worrying about politics.

He told Charles Bernard of Earle, who is the state Republican party chairman: "If you stay out of our business, we'll stay out of yours."

Proceeds from the fish fry go to the John Gammon Foundation, which awards scholarships. The first four scholarships from the foundation were announced Sunday.

McClellan to Seek Relection

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Sunday he will seek re-election next year "in all probability."

McClellan said he will announce his final decision on running "at the proper time." However, he said on Little Rock television station KTHV's "Face the State" program: "You can assume in all probability I will be a candidate."

McClellan also said that the possibility that Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., would seek McClellan's seat would have no bearing on whether he would seek re-election.

Arkansas' senior senator was asked if the possibility of facing a number of young candidates would make him change his campaign style.

"I'm an Arkansas Democrat and I'm going to stay one," he said. "I won't change my philosophy. People know what I am and what I stand for and I won't change my philosophy as far as I know."

WASHINGTON (AP) — It didn't start out that way, but President Nixon's new economic program may lead to one of the biggest tax cuts in a decade.

The administration's proposals are more heavily weighted toward business tax relief, but it is taken for granted now that Congress, if it goes along with the plan, will enlarge the relief for individuals, and quite likely broaden the business cuts too. How much remains to be seen.

The Nixon proposals alone add up to a $7.5 billion tax reduction over a full year.

If the various modifications already being discussed by various congressmen come to pass, the figure could balloon to $16.5 billion.

By way of comparison, the 1964 tax reduction pushed by Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson to

Chad Revolt Carried Out by Tribesmen

By LARRY HEINZERLING
Associated Press Writer

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The attempted coup in Chad apparently was the outgrowth of a smoldering seven-year-old rebellion by nomadic Moslem tribes.

Broadcasts from Fort Lamy, capital of Nigeria's impoverished, landlocked northern neighbor, indicate the takeover attempt in the former French colony last Friday was headed by northern dissidents. It was crushed by army troops loyal to President Francis Tombalbaye, the government radio said.

The government expelled the Libyan charge d'affaires, accusing his government of supporting the attempted coup. Some observers here say this indicates the Arab-financed Front de Liberation Nationale, or Frolinat, may have been involved.

The Libyan government denied it had a hand in the plot. Frolinat is headed by Abba Siddick, a former member of Tombalbaye's government, who claims to lead the guerrillas in northern Chad, although there is no evidence he controls their activities.

Some guerrilla bands operate from the other side of Chad's 650-mile desert frontier with

Supporters of Thieu Lead Voting

SAIGON (AP) — Supporters of President Nguyen Van Thieu appeared today to be headed for a majority in South Vietnam's new lower house election, but it was unclear how big it would be.

Nearly one third of the members elected in the nationwide voting Sunday have no national reputation, and their political alignment was not known yet.

Official returns for 140 of the 159 seats gave Thieu supporters 58 and the opposition 32. Three independents were winners, but the other 47 were political unknowns. However, most of the 47 were from the Mekong Delta, where pro-Thieu candidates made their strongest showing.

While Thieu's supporters did well in the delta and other provinces around Saigon, opposition deputies had the edge in the major cities, including Saigon, and in the northern provinces.

In Saigon, seven of the 13 winners were opposition leaders, most of them associates of Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh. Candidates backed by the antigovernment An Quang Buddhist faction won well over half the seats in Da Nang, Hue and the surrounding northern provinces.

The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong made nearly 100 attacks over the weekend, their heaviest activity in four months, but failed to disrupt the elections. The government claimed a near-record turnout of 5,567,446—78.5 per cent—of the eligible voters, and said less than one per cent of the 7,000 polling sites came under direct rocket, mortar or terror attack.

In the worst election attack, a grenade thrown into a polling place in coastal Binh Dinh province killed seven civilians and wounded 23. Many of the other attacks were minor and caused no casualties or damage.

Thieu's continued control of the house and the large turnout of voters were expected to reinforce his determination to go ahead with the Oct. 3 presidential election with himself as the only contestant.

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky withdrew from the presidential race last week, proposing that he and Thieu resign and the list of candidates be reopened to nominees. But Thieu told newsmen Sunday after casting his ballot that he would not resign and that the Oct. 3 election would go ahead as planned.

U.S. officials appeared to be reconciled to the one-man presidential race despite the likelihood that it would increase opposition in the United States to America's role in Vietnam.

There had been reports that the Nixon administration might reduce or withhold aid to Thieu's government, but one diplomat commented: "South Vietnam is dependent on the United States for its survival, just as North Vietnam is dependent on China and the Soviet Union."

The Balkans Again a Powderkeg

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Balkans in this century have always been a potential powderkeg, and today in that European underbelly there seems to be in progress a tense diplomatic struggle which is settling nerves on edge.

Some time this month, say Yugoslav sources, Leonid I. Brezhnev, the chief of the Soviet Communist party, will pay an official visit to Belgrade to discuss Yugoslav-Soviet relations, which are not good. Much is troubling those relations, including an irrepressible Soviet urge to meddle in Yugoslavia's affairs.

A Chinese military mission has just visited Romania, which also has been subject to Soviet pressure, and then went on to Albania.

A high-powered Chinese government delegation, perhaps headed by Premier Chou En-lai himself is reported due to visit Romania, Yugoslavia and Albania some time this fall.

On top of all that, President Tito is planning a trip to the United States in October.

All this, along with a possibility of bettered American-Chinese relations in the wake of a trip by President Nixon to Peking, seems to have the Kremlin upset. What is it that Brezhnev fears?

The Kremlin let a Hungarian Communist newspaper speak for it recently, and it made clear that what Brezhnev fears most is a Balkans axis "with anti-Soviet Union", linking Yugoslavia, Romania and Albania to China.

The Russians seem to regard any Chinese intrusion in the European Communist sphere as intolerable.

The official Yugoslav Communist newspaper Borba was outraged by the Hungarian article.

"This country has long since gained the political maturity allowing it to promote, without anybody's approval or guardianship, its friendly relations with other countries—a case in point, the Chinese People's Republic—without this cooperation ever being aimed at third countries," Borba snapped.

Borba used some hard language, suggesting that the Moscow-Belgrade feud still rankles 23 years after Joseph Stalin threw the Yugoslav party out of the family for resisting domination. In 1955, and at various times thereafter, Moscow tried to smooth things over, but things keep happening to sour relations with Belgrade.

Moscow disliked Yugoslavia's attitude at the time of the 1956 Hungarian revolution, resented Yugoslavia's failure to subscribe to Kremlin-inspired international Communist programs, deplored Yugoslavia's policy of "nonalignment" with blocs and most of all could not stomach Yugoslavia's internal system, considering it heretical and a dangerous example to others.

Brezhnev cannot change much, if any, of that. In fact, he is likely to be called upon to do a good deal of explaining.

Libya. The border raids and the fact that a black African government in southern Chad is fighting Moslem "nationalism" in the north have put serious strains on relations between Fort Lamy and Chad's Arab neighbors.

A French military pressure and a more flexible government policy in recent months appeared to have dampened the insurrection, but new clashes were reported about a month ago after a six-month lull in the fighting.

Ferry Boat Captain in Italy Charged

By PIERO DE GARZAROLLI
Associated Press Writer

BRINDISI, Italy (AP) — Italian police arrested the captain of the burned-out Greek ferry Heleanna early today as he was trying to leave Italy and charged him with homicide.

At least 26 persons died after fire ravaged the ferry Saturday about 25 miles off Brindisi in the Adriatic.

Capt. Dimitrios Antipas was seized aboard another Greek ferry, the Egnatia, and was put in the Brindisi jail.

In addition to homicide in the deaths of some passengers, Antipas was charged with overloading his boat, sailing without adequate firefighting and life-saving equipment and leaving the boat himself while "numerous passengers were still aboard."

Police said although the fire occurred in international waters, the body of at least one victim was found floating in Italian territorial waters.

No other ship's officers were arrested.

The charges against Antipas stemmed from accusations made to police by many of the 1,089 passengers who survived the disaster. A number said they saw the 42-year-old captain and his wife jump aboard one of the first lifeboats to leave the ferry.

Antipas' wife, Anastasia, left Brindisi hospital where she was being treated and planned to join her husband for the trip back to Greece on the Egnatia.

Later she met newsmen briefly at a Brindisi hotel.

"I prefer not to talk about the arrest, I beg you," she said. Instead she gave an account of how her husband reacted to the fire.

Mrs. Antipas said a crew member awoke the captain and her at 5:30 a.m. announcing the fire. "My husband left the cabin without dressing," she said, "taking with him a shirt and pair of pants."

"A few minutes later he was back and said, 'We must wake all passengers and make them go to deck-fast.' Then he went to the telecommunications room and sent the S.O.S. several times."

"Then an explosion was heard, followed by another one, stronger. The electrical plant of the ship broke down and emergency batteries were turned on."

Defending himself and his crew to newsmen on Sunday, Antipas said he and his wife were last to leave the burning ferry.

He said the boat had adequate lifesaving equipment on board and denied that the ferry was overcrowded.

"We were not carrying even a single cat more than we were allowed," he asserted. He admitted he did not know exactly how many passengers were on the Heleanna, but said the craft could carry up to 1,500 persons. However, officials of the Merchant Marine Ministry in Rome said they thought the ferry was "certainly overcrowded," noting that meals were served in four shifts. A representative of Lloyd's of London in Brindisi said the ship's safety certificate permitted no more than 954 passengers.

where in the sub-Saharan nations of Central and West Africa, there is an ancient, deeply imbedded hatred between the Islamic-oriented northern tribes and the Christian and pagan southern peoples.

Southern Chad received most of the benefits from French colonialism, including education, while the northern nomads were left to their cattle herding and desert journeys. When independence came in 1960, the southerners had the main administrative and decision-making posts in the government.

This has led to frequent clashes between officious, insensitive and often corrupt administrators from Fort Lamy and the proud Moslems who once sold and bought the southern Bantus as slaves.

Tax collectors from the capital often triple collection rates and pocket the difference. At one time taxes were ordered to be paid on wives, discriminating against the polygamous Moslems.

The first uncoordinated attacks against government outposts and military and civilian travelers broke out in 1965.

Says Special Session Is Needed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Thomas A. Glaze, chairman of The Election Laws Institute, said Sunday that he believed a special session of the legislature would be needed to establish the legal mechanics to elect delegates to the 1972 Democratic National Convention.

Glaze said he believed the state Democratic party officials were mistaken in saying that no runoff would be required to elect the delegates.

He indicated he would file a lawsuit challenging any effort to choose delegates without a runoff in cases where no candidate received a majority.

There has been some confusion over the selecting of delegates to attend the convention.

A 1971 state law requires 80 per cent of the delegates to the convention be chosen in regular party primaries. However, the Arkansas preferential primary in 1972 will be June 27, a week after delegates to the convention are supposed to be certified. If a runoff is necessary, that election would be July 11. The convention would already be in progress at that time.

Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana, chairman of the State Committee's Rules Committee, says he believes a special session of the legislature can be avoided and the Arkansas delegation can be sure of being seated.

He said he has interpreted the law as not requiring a runoff for national convention delegates.

Glaze said he thought the law clearly required a runoff and said a special session should be called to change the primary dates so the seating of Arkansas delegates would not be in jeopardy.

WR Urges Youths to Vote

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller told more than 1,000 young persons attending his annual "Youth Day" at Winrock Farms Saturday that if they did not register and vote they would be betraying those who helped obtain the right for 18-21 years olds.

Rockefeller answered questions following his speech.

When asked what he thought of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., as a possible Democratic presidential candidate, Rockefeller answered, "I'm a Republican, period. I think Mills is having a whale of a good time."

Rockefeller also said, in answer, that he had no plan of running again for political office.

"I'm enjoying being a farmer," he said.

pliance now we can avoid stringent controls later.

"But," he said, "it would be unwise to think we can go back to where we were before. American business and labor may have to get used to the idea of living within certain parameters." He decline to speculate in detail on what would happen after the freeze.

In an interview in Newsweek magazine, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, offered "under certain circumstances" to sit on a board to administer Phase II. He did not say what those circumstances would be.

Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, called for a permanent wage-price board using public opinion to keep prices from spiraling.

He was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press."

"I would hope the Nixon administration would sponsor a wage-price review board on a permanent basis," Woodcock said on NBC's "Meet the Press." "Not necessarily to have controls, but to take the dominant price leaders in the various industries and, if they propose to increase prices, to require them to come forward under powers of subpoena, to lay all the economic facts on the line . . . and to let the power of public opinion into what are really now closed-off areas of our national life."

He said unions should be under the same public scrutiny.

In other developments? —Three opinion polls reported strong support for the present sanctions, even among union families. The Gallup poll said 75 per cent of nonunion and 65 per cent of union families favored the freeze. Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N.J., said 71 per cent of union families it polled favored it, and Time magazine reported a poll showed 74 per cent of union families favored it.

—Theodore Kheel, executive director of the National War Labor Board during World War II, said he believes wage-price stabilization should continue after current freeze. Appearing on CBS radio's "Let's Find Out," Kheel predicted such a stabilization program would be aimed at correcting gross injustices as a result of controls on prices and wages.

—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said although he supports the general outline of Nixon's plan, he had held out the possibility of expanding individual standard deductions which would most benefit low-bracket taxpayers. In a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report, the Arkansas Democrat said lower-income taxpayers "are the hardest hit by inflation" and "undoubtedly would spend all of any dollars they might save through tax reduction."

—In Minneapolis, the head of the 525,000-member American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees said the Nixon plan was "a tremendous tax sop to big business." Jerry Wurf said his organization wants controls that reach "not only wages, but also rents, profits, interests, dividends—the whole works."

—The Department of Labor reported in the 10 days after a government request to halt strikes during the 90-day freeze, 97 work stoppages were terminated. It said 365 strikes were under way when the freeze began.

—The Cost of Living Council ruled auto dealers may sell 1972 models at the price for which the 1971 models came out. This is more than now being charged for them in most cases, but less than would have been charged for new models if the freeze was not in effect. The council also gave its okay to seasonal increases in hotel and motel rates. The council said the actions were taken because such prices "follow distinct seasonal patterns."

Links Taxes to Rural Poverty

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Bill Alexander, D - Ark., said Monday that rising taxes and "runaway budgets" in the nation's cities are directly related to rural poverty.

In opening remarks at a hearing here on community development needs of counties and municipalities in the 1st Congressional District, Alexander urged the leaders of the small communities and towns to work with metropolitan officials in attacking problems of community development so "we can afford the future."

He said there was a growing awareness on the part of government officials in some major cities and metropolitan areas of the problems created by rural poverty.

"For too long," Alexander said, "we have sought to develop programs to deal with the problems of the untrained or poorly trained rural migrants who swell to our cities, while, ironically, we ignored the causes that force them to flee the nation's nonmetropolitan areas."

Alexander said he believes the only effective way to solve many urban social and fiscal problems is to attack the underlying problem—rural poverty.

At today's hearing in Brinkley, mayors, county judges and community leaders from the southern counties of Alexander's district were joined by state leaders in their discussion of development needs.

The congressman said he intends to use the data gathered at today's hearing and other hearings to be conducted in North and East Arkansas to persuade Congress to enact more flexible funding legislation to aid community development.

ECONOMIC

speed an economy then, as now, suffering stagnation amounted to $11.5 billion the first year.

The 1969 Tax Reform Act, some provisions of which are still coming into effect in stages, is expected to yield about $7.3 billion in tax relief next year for individuals, offset by business tax increases that would reduce the net revenue loss to less than $2 billion.

Here are some elements of the present tax situation, and some of the possibilities:

Nixon has proposed restoration of the investment credit, worth $3 billion to businesses investing in equipment; speed-ups of the 1969 law provisions increasing the personal income tax exemption and the standard deduction, estimated to save individual taxpayers $2.2 billion in 1972, and elimination of the automobile excise tax, for a $2.3 billion saving to car buyers. The investment credit and excise figures are for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The investment credit figure is based on an effective date of Aug. 15, 1971, the day Nixon announced his sweeping program. But principal handlers of the legislation in the House have said they consider themselves committed to set the effective date back to April 1, when the possibility first was publicly discussed. So far, the Treasury has made no loud objection.

Such an advance would substantially increase the tax relief—perhaps by $1 billion.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., says he expects the House Ways and Means Committee to write more tax relief for individuals into the legislation. His own preference is for enlarging the minimum standard deduction, or low-income allowance, that benefits the smallest taxpayers.

Optometrists Hold August Meeting Here

The South Arkansas Optometric Society held its annual August Watermelon meeting in Hope Wednesday night at the Town & Country Restaurant. The Society is composed of Optometrist from McGehee, El Dorado, Fordyce, Monticello, Magnolia, Hope, Arkadelphia, Lake Village, Nashville, Pine Bluff and Camden, who meet monthly under the auspices of the Optometric Extension Program, a nationally recognized post-graduate program for Optometric practitioners and their assistants.

The August meeting was arranged by Drs. Emmett Thompson and Don Freel with program arrangements by Dr. Myron Shofner of El Dorado.

Dr. Virgil Cook of Mena, who has recently returned from speaking engagements in Europe, brought the group an excellent presentation on the utilization of special visual aids for the patient with sub-normal vision. In opening his presentation Dr. Cook emphasized the fact that not all patients can be helped with these special binoculars, magnifying aids, or optical systems—but in a significant number of cases dramatic improvements have been made. Dr. Cook ended his talk with a pledge of cooperation with practitioners present.

Seventy-three scholarships have been awarded this year to students in five states, tying the previous high presented in 1968. Since the program began, 788 youngsters have attended college on Arkla grants.

The current awards total $25,550 and raise the cumulative sum distributed for this purpose to more than $275,000.

W. R. Stephens, president and chairman of the board, said the awards are made on the basis of character, leadership, scholarship, and financial need.

Diana Lynn Warren is the daughter of Mrs. Edith G. Warren, clerk in the company's Hope, Ark. distribution office. The family address is Box 104, Emmet. A 1970 graduate of Emmet High School, she was valedictorian of her senior class. Last school year she attended Southern State College. COLUMNIST'S ADVICE TO HERSELF AND OTHERS: DON'T BORROW TROUBLE

Dear Helen:

My trouble is that I'm too happy, and I'm afraid the bubble will burst.

My friends tell me to run now before it's too late. My husband agrees.

He has been a popular principal of our high school for seven years. Our sons will be entering there, one this September, one next. They aren't troublemakers. In fact, one is an honor student.

But people insist it will never work. Should I search for a house in another district, taking the boys away from their friends and making it difficult for my husband to commute? I don't want to ruin a so-far wonderful family relationship.—AFRAID

Dear Afraid:

When you worry about a future "what if," it seldom happens because you're aware that it might and you work to prevent it. A well-adjusted family will cope with this situation. Others have.—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Even after three years of regular employment in the hit ABC series "Mod Squad," Michael Cole has a tentative attitude about the fame and money that have come with it.

He speaks often of the care-free, penniless days when he was "living in the street" in San Francisco during the freewheeling days of the early 1960s.

He looks back on those days the way an old soldier looks back on his wars—only the good memories remain.

"They called them beatniks," he said during a noon beer-break on his day off. "I was working in a bookstore and I'd watch them come in and wander around picking up a book here and there and reading a little. I had no sense that there were drugs, just a feeling that these people were happy and free to do what they wanted to do."

Interest in acting came later when Michael started studying with a theater workshop in Los Angeles. At one lean period, a prop stage bed was his temporary home. When producer Aaron Spelling dreamed up "Mod Squad," Michael Cole was the first performer cast, playing the role of Peter Cochran.

"I'm not acting in the sense of creating a character," he said. "I use a lot of mental and emotional recall—after all, the hardest thing for an actor is to be himself. But I guess you can say that Pete Cochran is very close to Michael Cole."

Today he lives in a fine house in the San Fernando Valley, drives an expensive imported car—and the strongest impression one gets is his own sense of impermanence.

"I'm going to get married Sept. 2," he said suddenly. "Paula-Paula Dickinson—and I are going to do it. She is my girl and, after all, I like a home and most of all I like the sense there is—somebody there who cares for me."

Michael and Paula have known each other for eight years, but even so the prospect of such a definite tie seems to frighten him.

"I've thought a lot about marriage, and I've thought a lot about running right back to living on the street," he said. "That's a different thing—you stay awhile with people you know. You're lonely and you become friends with people in different bars—lonely people you say 'hell no' to ... anyway, I've decided to get married."

Meanwhile, "Mod Squad," a vital building block in ABC's powerful Tuesday night lineup, will start its fourth year unchanged in cast and format, with Michael, Peggy Lipton and Clarence Williams III solving a criminal case each week.

Joyce Carved a Career in Carpentry

By AILEEN SNODDY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Joyce Hartwell has the sculptured features that make a model's fortune in this city. She is a model in a sense and got that way, she says, because she was terribly naive.

A clerk at New York's Marriage License Bureau really thought Joyce and her "intended," Rick, both were a bit confused when they filled out an application. In the space to note Occupation, she wrote "Carpenter" and he wrote "Housekeeper." The clerk pushed the forms back and said, "You done it wrong."

The truth is that Joyce Hartwell is a genuine L.C.—lady carpenter. And her husband is a supervisor of housecleaning at St. Luke's Hospital here and now is accustomed to such a response.

He says, "Behind every successful woman carpenter is a husband."

Joyce the Lady Carpenter is ensconced in a four-story leased building on Manhattan's West Side. Like so many neighborhoods the area is in flux and she hopes Morgan, her black Great Dane, will keep burglars from stealing her saws and lathes and sundry tools of the trade.

Previously, she fought neighborhood fear and resentment in Lower Manhattan.

"I went to work when 16," she explains. "Father had multiple sclerosis. As a child I went to a progressive school in Greenwich Village. Boys and girls took 'shop' and no one told me. A little girl shouldn't build things."

"My father encouraged me to be creative and mother, who had studied pre-med, never brought me up just to be married."

Traces Ancestors And Their Lives As Settlers

ANCESTORS. By William Maxwell. Knopf. $6.95.

Readers interested in early American history, in genealogy and in the anecdotes of the family life of yesterday and the day before yesterday may be interested in Maxwell's chronicle of his ancestors.

Maxwell is a novelist who has turned his attention to the many branches of his family tree. Most of his ancestors were Scots and the remainder Englishmen. They came to this country in the late 18th and early 19th centuries, and gradually drifted westward to the north central states—not as frontiersmen, but as settlers.

Using memoirs, letters and BACK IN SHOP CLASS. Joyce Hartwell liked to build things. So she grew up to be an L.C.—Lady Carpenter.

As a child she knew the joy of building things and discovered she liked expressing herself in this way.

Her first step as a teen was to take a six-month photography course. But she wound up with "the lady's job" of styling and propping photographs, which means collecting odds and ends of flowers, dishes, vases and furniture, etc., and doing little photography.

She tossed this aside as a dead end and rented a oral tradition, supplemented by research in the histories of the period, he has reconstructed the day-to-day experiences of the settlers and their descendants; their hardships, successes and failures, their personal idiosyncrasies.

Though his material goes back to the 18th century, most of the detail is about the last five generations. There is no genealogical chart, and at times the family relationships are hard to follow.

A good many of Maxwell's ancestors were active in the church, and this slows down the narrative considerably, while the author goes on at great length about church doctrines and the differences between the Presbyterians (Campbellites) and the newly formed Christian Church.

The latter part of the account is a folksy, garrulous record of the author's boyhood years in Illinois early in this century.

Chinese laundry in Lower Manhattan. Here she set up her first carpentry and decorating business and ran into active prejudices.

"I was tearing down walls to rebuild and now realize the others in the tenement acted out of fear. They would wait until I had a hall full of board and plaster and call a fire inspector. Once the job was finished many apologized and said they liked the work. Another time I ran into neighborhood prejudice when trying to teach Puerto Rican children refinishing. They were the newest group in an area with 27 nationalities and were resented.

"I never set out to be a financial success. I just loved building things and expressing myself," she explains. She now has eight employees, including a European artisan and a woman art graduate who is a sculptress.

Joyce has done some TV touring to explain how to use a synthetic that cuts easily and looks like marble. She would like to have a TV show to explain the use of tools to women.

"Most work a woman would like to do to improve her home she can do herself," she says. "If she just changes the mental image of herself. With some inexpensive tools a woman can build what she wants."

"I discovered during the TV tour that I gave people a feeling of being able to cope with their surroundings. Physical strength isn't a problem in carpentry. It's planning. A nurse working with handicapped people uses more energy."

She builds wall and storage units for apartments and town houses in the area and often carries supplies to work on her bicycle. "I really should have a driver's license and then I could have a motor scooter which would be ideal."

"My husband and I love to share things, cooking, entertaining. But I'm not in love with housekeeping. The more I think about the last 16 years the more I realize that if I had known the harsh prejudice against women doing what I did I never would have done it. Fortunately I was never told I couldn't do what I wanted because I'm female. I'm really not women's lib. I'm for human lib."

Van Gogh Letters Reveal Torment

VAN GOGH'S "DIARY": The Artist's Life in His Own Words and Art. Edited by Jan Hulsker. William Morrow. $12.50.

This is a "diary" in the sense that it reconstructs Van Gogh's own written thoughts during the period that he was an artist, from 1881 to 1890.

There are excerpts from the hundreds of letters that Van Gogh wrote to his younger brother Theo (who periodically gave him enough money to live on), his parents and some of his artist friends.

In addition it is evident that many of the artist's drawings, watercolors and paintings reflect his reactions to the places and people around him, and the illustrations are keyed to his running comment on his works in progress.

At the back of the book is a biographical summary about Van Gogh's years before 1881, when at the age of 27 he began his career as an artist. Some readers may want to absorb this background before reading the main text. There are 19 color plates and 260 illustrations in black and white.

From these Van Gogh letters come many intimate expressions of the artist's tortured battle to create his own view of the world; his disappointment over the fact his works did not sell (in the past two years two of his paintings have been auctioned for $1.3 million and $1.2 million); his emotional, physical and mental problems, which led to his early death, and his sometimes desperate attempts to live up to the esthetic goals in which he believed. This book should serve as a companion volume to whatever biographical or critical studies the reader may want to consult.

Blue Finally Gets 23rd Victory

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vida Blue found he couldn't win with a couple of near-flawless four-hitters. So he offered a shaky six-hit performance and finally found elusive No. 23.

The Oakland left-hander, with 22 triumphs already under his belt, was shooting for a 30-victory season before being ambushed by Boston and New York.

Gary Peters and the Red Sox nipped him 1-0 on Aug. 20 and Mel Stottlemyre and the Yankees duplicated the feat four days later, saddling him with his sixth and seventh setbacks.

Blue found the winning groove again Sunday, but it wasn't easy. Washington clipped him for six hits including home runs by Del Unser and Tim Cullen, the latter a two-run shot in the ninth.

But Blue held on for the A's 4-3 triumph in the opening game of their doubleheader and they made it a pair with a 9-0 romp as Rim "Catfish" Hunter tossed a seven-hitter for his 17th victory and Denny McLain absorbed his 17th loss.

The sweep padded Oakland's West Division leader over Kansas City to 16 games.

In other American League action, the Chicago White Sox beat Detroit 6-2, the New York Yankees hounded Kansas City 10-3, Minnesota edged Cleveland 6-5, Baltimore split a doubleheader with Milwaukee, winning 3-2, then losing 4-1 and, in a West Coast twilight game, California defeated Boston 2-1.

In the National League, Pittsburgh beat Houston 5-2, Atlanta nipped the Chicago Cubs 5-4, San Francisco belted Philadelphia 8-3, St. Louis tripped Cincinnati 4-3 in 11 innings, the New York Mets tossed out Los Angeles 4-3 and Montreal split a pair with San Diego, winning 6-1 before the Padres blitzed the Expos 13-3 in the finale.

Despite striking out 10 Senators to boost his major league-leading total to 274 the generally staying out of trouble, Blue still wasn't pleased.

"I'm not satisfied with the way I pitched," he said. "I couldn't get my fast ball where I wanted it so I started throwing the curve. Still, I threw about 70 per cent fast balls."

"I don't care if I don't lead the league in anything—victories or strikeouts. All I want to do is win the pennant. The strikeouts are just there. If I get a lot, that's fine. Home runs? Anyone can hit a home run any time. Everyone is tough for me to pitch against. All hitters are tough."

Pete A's hit Senators rookie Pete Broberg with his fifth loss in 10 decisions as they struck for a pair of first-inning runs and another on Reggie Jackson's 25th homer in the third. But it was Dave Duncan's run-scoring single in the sixth that gave Blue the winning edge.

In the nightcap, Oakland pounded McLain and three relievers for 14 hits, three of them by Angel Mangual, who batted in three runs and scored two.

Veteran Wilbur Wood, a knuckleballing reliever until this season, scattered four hits including solo homers by Al Kaline and Ike Brown—as he went the distance for the 15th time this season to pick up victory No. 18.

"Twenty? I'm not thinking about it yet," Wood mused. "Look that far ahead and you

Aaron Intent on Breaking More Records

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

Records were meant to be broken and it appears that Hank Aaron is intent on breaking quite a few before he's through.

And Aaron, after leading the Atlanta Braves to a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs Sunday, is far from through.

The rugged right fielder, now 37, drilled his 39th home run of the season and No. 631 for his 18-year major league career.

The homer, off Juan Pizarro, a two-run shot, also gave him 100 runs batted in for the year. It was the 11th season he has gone over the century mark for RBI, snapping a tie with Stan Musial and Willie Mays for the National League record. He is two shy of the major league mark of 13 held jointly by Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx and Lou Gehrig.

Aaron also slashed a double, keying a two-run sixth inning. The hit gave the Atlanta slugger 3,243, putting him into sixth place on the all-time hit list, replacing Nap Lajoie.

In other NL games, Pittsburgh topped Houston 5-2, St. Louis nudged Cincinnati 4-3 in 11 innings, San Francisco ripped Philadelphia 8-3, the New York Mets trimmed Los Angeles 4-3 and Montreal and San Diego split, the Expos winning 6-1, before dropping the nightcap, 13-3.

In the American League, Minnesota edged Cleveland 6-5, the New York Yankees bombed Kansas City 10-3, Chicago whipped Detroit 6-2, Baltimore and Milwaukee split, the Orioles winning 3-2 before losing 4-1, Oakland took two from Washington, 4-3 and 9-0, and California edged Boston 2-1.

Earl Williams also homered for Atlanta. His 28th of the season, following Aaron's shot in the first inning, gave the Braves a 3-0 margin. Two more runs in the sixth made it 5-1 before the slumping Cubs scored twice in the eighth and got to within a run on Jim Hickman's homer in the ninth.

Chicago, which has lost four of its last five, is now seven games behind Pittsburgh.

Aaron, whose home run output leaves him only three behind league leader Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh and only 14 behind Mays in career totals, thinks that the San Francisco star and himself are the only ones with a shot at Babe Ruth's record 714.

"I'd sure like to get it," said Aaron in the Brave dressing room.

"It's the most prestigious of all records. It has stood for a long time and I think that only Willie and myself have a shot at it. No one else in the immediate future appears to have a chance."

Aaron added that he'd like to catch Stargell this season too, "but I'm not thinking about it."

Aaron's statistics this year are enviable for anyone and especially for a 37-year-old. He's hitting .321 and has 133 hits, has scored 80 runs, besides belting 18 doubles and two triples, in addition to his home runs and runs batted in totals.

"Physically, I'm in great shape. Right now I'm bothered by a slight cold. Other than that I'm fine," the 6-foot, 180-pounder said.

The Pirates maintained their five game edge over St. Louis as Dave Giusti gained his 27th save of the year, saving the victory for Bob Johnson.

Johnson was reached for a two-run double in the eighth before Giusti came on to stop the Astros. Jackie Hernandez had two RBI for the East leaders.

The red-hot Cards, sticking on the Pirates heels with their sixth win in seven starts, eked out their triumph when reliever Clay Carroll walked Ted Sizemore with the bases full and two out in the 11th inning.

Lou Brock had given the Cards a lift by homering with two out in the ninth to tie the Reds 3-3.

Bobby Bonds drove a three-run homer and Juan Marichal scattered eight hits as San Francisco ripped the Phillies, increasing its West lead to 8½ games over the staggering Dodgers. Joe Lis homered for the Phils.

Tommie Agee's run-scoring single in the ninth inning gave the Mets a sweep of the Dodgers three-game series. It was also New York's fourth consecutive triumph, the first time

Weaver Wins His First Big Tourney

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — "Now I feel like I can find out just how good I am," DeWitt Weaver said.

"Now I can see just how good my golf game is. Winning this one, well, it puts me on a level with all the other players who have won tournaments and gives me a chance to find out just how good I can play."

Weaver, gray, 31-year-old probably better known as a one-time back-up quarterback to Don Meredith at Southern Methodist, scored his first professional by a six-stroke margin over struggling Phil Rodgers Sunday in their head-to-head confrontation for the $35,000 first prize in the United States Professional Match Play Championship.

Weaver had a final round 71, one under par, in the unique event that features head-to-head play with scoring based on total strokes over 18 holes. Rodgers had a 77, five over par on the 6,973 yard Country Club of North Carolina course.

The victory pushed Weaver's earnings to $74,914 for the year, compared with a little over $13,000 last season, his best previous year. He lost his sponsor after that one.

Weaver had a one stroke lead going to the par five fifth. He hit his second shot, a four wood out of the rough, on the green and two putted for a birdie. Rodgers was in the woods, chipped back to the fairway, was short in three and took a bogey.

That made it a two stroke swing, gave Weaver a three stroke margin and he coasted in a Rodgers had his troubles, hitting only three greens on the front line.

Rodgers picked up $17,500 for second and said he was headed for rest and possibly some minor eye surgery.

Ken Still beat Australian Bruce Crampton 74-76 in the match for third place.

Arnold Palmer lost in the quarter-finals Saturday morning, while Jack Nicklaus and South African Gary Player were first round upset victims.

Texas Still Rated Tops in Conference

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — The head savage of the Southwest is still the Texas Longhorns, who again have the strength to make it to the national championship.

Rice saw its 30-game victory string broken in the Cotton Bowl 24-11 by Notre Dame New Year's Day and a raft of class seniors like All-America full-back Steve Worster, split end Cotton Speyer, All-America defensive end Bill Atessis, and All-America offensive tackle Bobby Wuensch, said adios.

Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal says "We're replacing quality seniors with quality sophomores, but that isn't a fair swap. We could be starting as many as nine sophomores."

"I can't see us being as good a football team because of the inexperience."

But Royal has so many pluses it will be hard to keep the Longhorns down.

"Our backfield will be the quickest we've had at Texas," Royal says. "Offensively, our line will be physically stronger and larger. The things that give me comfort about next fall are that we have some talent and we have some enthusiasm."

The talent and enthusiasm starts with quarterback Eddie Phillips, a master operator of the Wishbone-T. Royal calls Phillips "the best quarterback I've had at Texas."

Phillips showed in the Cotton Bowl game that he could also pass which should keep some foes from loading up on the Longhorn ground game this autumn.

Joining Phillips in the backfield is Royal's prime All-America candidate, halfback Jim Bertelsen.

Bertelsen averaged six yards per carry and romped for 13 touchdowns in 1970.

Other potential All-Americans on the Longhorns include junior offensive tackle Jerry Sisemore and defensive tackle Ray Dowdy.

Texas carries a 20-game conference skein into the Southwest Conference donnybrook this season.

Arkansas and fast-rising Texas Tech pose the biggest menace to the Longhorn domination.

The Razorbacks could be one of the most explosive offensive teams in the country. Junior quarterback Joe Ferguson has a tremendous arm and tailback Jon Richardson is a touchdown threat each time he carries the football. Also, not to be overlooked is field goal kicker Bill McCord, who boomed an NCAA record 60-yarder against Southern Methodist last year.

But Arkansas, at least on paper, has a potential defensive Achilles heel.

Coach Frank Broyles says "This is a rebuilding year for us. We lost nine seniors who had started every game the past three years ... Inexperience will certainly be a problem for us, we're young both ways."

Broyles has only four players returning on defense.

At Texas Tech, second-year Coach Jim Carlen is riding the momentum of 8-3 season.

"We should be improved from an offensive standpoint," Carlen says. "However, our defensive line is way below last year."

Tech is blessed with excellent, grinding running backs in Doug McCutchen and Miles Langehennig. Newcomer Joe Barnes provides a breakaway threat.

Quarterback Charles Napper is a consistent performer who has a clutch receiver in Johnny

Millwood Site of Bass Tournament

ASHDOWN, Ark. (sp) ... Some of the top-rated fishermen in the United States are gearing up for the American Anglers Association big $15,000 Grand National Bass Bonanza scheduled for September 25-26 at Millwood Reservoir.

This might cause some local anglers to think their chances of finishing in the money are slim, but "Not So," says AAA President Bob Stewart of Houston. "Regardless of how efficient the experts become, experience has shown that it can be anybody's ballgame at weigh-in time on the final day."

During the recent $50,000 World Invitational Tourney at Lake Sam Rayburn in Texas, top names of the fishing world covered the lake, but their finest efforts came short of the tactics used by two lakeside residents. The local pair took a $13,000 chunk of the prize money.

Stewart pointed out that even the greenhorn angler has a better than average shot at hanging the "big bass" during National competition. This will be worth a $2,000 fishing rig during the Grand National.

The Millwood contest is open to all American Angler Association members and membership is open to any interested fisherman over 16 years of age. $12,500 in cash and $2500 in merchandise awards will go to anglers weighing in the most pounds and ounces of bass during the two day contest.

Pafford Distributing Company of Texarkana and numerous businesses surrounding Millwood Reservoir are sponsoring the popular fish-off. Ashdown Bass Club, Bud-Men Bass Club, Texarkana Bass Club, DeQueen Bass Club, Millwood Bass Association and the Little River County Rural Development Authority are hosts.

Tournament headquarters is Yarbrough Lake Landing, eight miles east of Ashdown, Arkansas. All AAA National tournaments consist of two divisions; Individual competition and Two-Man team entries. In the Individual event, anglers apply their individual skills towards capturing a grand champ's purse of $2,000 cash... they fish in pairs during each day, but never with the same partner twice and never with a partner from the same city of bass club. Partners are drawn from a box on the night prior to the cannon blast which signifies the beginning of the tournament. In the team division, fishermen enter with a partner of their own choosing for scoring purposes, however they are not allowed to actually fish together. At the conclusion of the contest, their individual weights are combined to determine top two fishermen. $1000 cash is the reward in this division.

A total of 30 places are paid in the individual event and 10 top teams finish in the money. All places receive handsome trophies in addition to cash.

Festivities such as bingo and pack-rat contests will be available for the women and children and trophies will be awarded in these events.

Ole George Warns Rest of League

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
OAKLAND (AP) — George Blanda, the Oakland Raiders' inspirational leader, has a warning for the rest of the National Football League.

"I feel great, I'm ready to go," the gray-haired quarterback and place kicker said as he warmed up for his 22nd pro season.

Several of the rookies running wild spirits with Blanda were born in 1949, the year he began his NFL career with the Chicago Bears.

Blanda will turn 44 on Sept. 17. Two days later, he hopes to add to his NFL career record of 1,561 points when the Raiders open the regular season against the New England Patriots.

Last year, he was the big story as the Raiders posted the most spectacular 8-4 record in NFL history and won their fourth straight division title, the American Conference West crown. He's indicated he won't even consider retirement until the team wins the Super Bowl.

But Blanda accepts his role as No. 2 quarterback, behind Daryle Lamonica, and knows that Oakland Coach John Madden would like to give young Ken Stabler more passing opportunities.

Lamonica, who has 111 touchdown passes in four seasons with Oakland, also has a history of frequent minor injuries. The latest, a pulled leg muscle, knocked him out of action in a warmup drill before this year's exhibition opener.

In 1970, Lamonica limped to the bench several times and Blanda came on to throw six important touchdown passes. The old pro also kicked last-second field goals to save three games and was named The Associated Press Athlete of the Year.

Strengthening the defense, which allowed 20 points per game in 1970, is a must for Oakland. Rookies Jack Tatum, Phil Villapiano and Horace Jones might help.

Tatum, the All-American from Ohio State, is getting a shot at the starting job left vacant by safety Dave Grayson, now with San Diego. Villapiano is a linebacker and Jones a defensive end.

Former University of Southern California running back Clarence Davis was a sensation in the exhibition season, but Lamonica will probably be directing the all-veteran unit on offense.

All-Pro tackle Bob Brown, acquired in a trade with the Los Angeles Rams, should improve the pass protection that was good last year, allowing Raiders' quarterbacks to be tackled only 19 times.

Davis probably will see most of his action on kick returns. Hewitt Dixon, Charlie Smith and Marv Hubbard led a running attack that gained 1,964 yards last season.

Starting receivers Warren Wells, Fred Biletnikoff and Ray Chester are back, although Wells faces the possibility of being sent to jail soon.

Wells, who has caught 36 touchdown passes over the last three seasons, was stabbed in a Texas bar last spring. He is on probation for a conviction in 1969 for attempted rape and has been warned that his probation could be revoked for being in a place where liquor is served.

The Raiders' defense showed signs of wear in several areas last year. Opponents rushed for 4.4 yards per carry and completed 46.3 per cent of their passes.

The corresponding figures in 1969 were 3.8 yards per rush and 38.9 per cent on passing.

Injuries to middle linebacker Dan Connors and cornerback Willie Brown, who both missed several games, might have been the biggest reasons for the defensive slump.

The Raiders should soon find out, since they have basically the same defensive line-up. Bill Laskey, the left linebacker who was traded to Baltimore, is the only 1970 starter besides Grayson who is gone.

PRO CHARTS

by MURRAY OLDERMAN
American Conference: Central Division
CLEVELAND BROWNS

PROSPECTUS—Browns, obviously smarting from also-ran role last year, start with new deal under Nick Skorich, third coach in club's history. Didn't help feelings that Bengals, under old boss Paul Brown, beat them out. Skorich won't change system much from Collier regime, and enough of the good guys are still available to indicate Browns can climb back. Just need a strong hand to lead them on field.

Offense
PASSING—Gamble to put a quarterback on spot in his second year, but Mike Phipps is the flag-carrier because Bill Nelsen's knees are shaky pinning for a championship campaign. Phipps has physical tools. Maybe coaxing a little help from Nelsen, they can swing it. Rating—B-.

RUNNING—Look for Leroy Kelly to bounce back to 1,000-yard status. He's got pride of super-runner and ability to follow his interference. Meanwhile, Bo Scott emerged last year as fine all-purpose back. Reese Morrison's knocking for more work, too. Rating—A-.

RECEIVING—Flop of Homer Jones (since traded) hasn't hurt because Fair Hooker had him beat out before season started. Of course, Gary Collins, who runs those superb post patterns, is no kid any more in 10th pro season. So No. 3 draftee Paul Staroba could be asset. Tight end's superbly protected by Milt Morin, Chip Glass. Rating—B+.

LINE—Age has got to start catching up with such old-timers as Gene Hickerson (35), Dick Schafrath (34). But as long as they can still pull out ahead of running backs, they've got to play. Younger element up front represented by John Demarie, Joe Taffoni, Fred Hoaglin, who don't make all-star teams but can move around. Rating—B.

Prediction
It's not an airtight team, but it does have tradition of winning. Climb back to first in Central Division.

LSU Likely to Be Better Offensively

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State University's reputation as one of college football's premier defensive teams may slip slightly this year, but a more effective offense should take up the slack.

LSU rolled to a 9-2 regular season record last year, lost by five points to Nebraska in the Orange Bowl and wound up ranked seventh in the nation. The 1971 team should be at least as good.

Coach Charles McClendon's defensive philosophy is to force his opponent to concentrate on one phase of its offense—either running or passing.

The Tigers led the nation in rushing defense the past two years, but three of the starters off the front four which anchored that defense are gone.

"Our linebackers haven't had to be worried up front for the past couple of years but they may have to take up a little slack now," said McClendon.

He added that the 1971 line-backing corps is probably the best in depth and quality he's had at LSU All-American Mike Anderson is gone, but starters Louis Cascio and Richard Picou return and senior Lloyd Frye will fill the third linebacker slot.

But the two most spectacular individual defenders are tackle Ronnie Estay and All-American cornerback Tommy Casanova.

Estay is only 6-foot-1 and weighs 235, but has exceptional speed and quickness.

McClendon says Casanova is the best athlete to play football at LSU in 10 years. He returns punts and kickoffs and occasionally switches to tailback on ket downs.

Quarterback Bert Jones and wide receiver Andy Hamilton are likely to grab most of the offensive headlines in 1971.

McClendon says Jones, a junior has the strongest arm in LSU history.

Hamilton already holds LSU records for most yards gained on pass receptions in a game, season and career.

Pro Ranks Has Host of New Coaches

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ten men are starting their first full seasons as head coaches of professional football teams. Of the 10, only one—Tommy Prothro of the Los Angeles Rams—has a winning record after the first five weeks of National Football League exhibition games.

Prothro moved into the winning column Sunday, when the Rams beat the New England Patriots 31-21 to raise their pre-season record to 3-2. In Sunday's only other game, Atlanta topped Buffalo 35-24.

In Saturday games, Cincinnati edged St. Louis 22-21, Minnesota defeated Pittsburgh 26-21, Baltimore topped Washington 20-14, Oakland beat Green Bay 17-13, Philadelphia tripped the New York Giants 28-14, San Diego upended New Orleans 22-7, San Francisco rallied to defeat Denver 33-17, Chicago edged Cleveland 20-19 and Miami topped Detroit 28-24.

Thursday night, Dallas defeated Houston 28-20.

The New York Jets will oppose the Kansas City Chiefs in a nationally-televised game tonight, winding up the week-end's action.

Of the 10 new head coaches, only two—including inherited winning teams. The other is Bob Holloway, whose St. Louis Cardinals—1-2 in exhibition play—were 8-5-1 last season.

Prothro, who compiled a 104-55-5 record in the college ranks at Oregon State and UCLA, inherited a veteran team from George Allen, who moved from the head coaching spot at Los Angeles to become Washington's head coach and general manager.

In five years under Allen, the Rams had compiled a 49-17-4 record and had won two division championships. But Prothro had no plans to stand pat.

Prothro quickly shook things up by dealing away 10 veterans—including seven regulars—during the off-season. Leaving Los Angeles were such familiar names as offensive tackle Bob Brown, linebackers Myron Ottis, Jack Pardee and Maxie Baughan, defensive tackle Diron Talbert, receivers Wendell Tucker and Billy Truax and running back Tommy Mason.

But Prothro was not trading just for the sake of shaking things up. A number of key players, including wide receiver Lance Rentzel, linebacker Marlin McKeever, tackle Harry Schuh and running back Travis Williams, were obtained via deals.

Just as important was the fact that Prothro was obtaining draft choices, both present and future, to replace the aging veterans. Among the first-year men who could help the Rams this season are linebacker Isaiah Robinson and defensive end Jack Youngblood, both first-round choices, and safety Dave Elmendorf.

Williams, obtained from the Packers, took the opening kickoff against New England and raced 93 yards for a touchdown, setting the pace for the Rams' 31-21 victory.

The other new coaches did not fare as well as Prothro this weekend. Only one came up a winner, while seven were on the losing end. The Cleveland Browns, 0-4 under Nick Skorich, were not scheduled.

In a battle involving two first-year coaches, San Diego and Sid Gillman defeated New Orleans and J.D. Roberts 22-7. Gillman coached the Chargers from 1960 through the middle of the 1969 season, when he moved to the front office and Charlie Waller took over as coach. Now Gillman is back as coach, and the Chargers are 2-2 in pre-season games. The Saints are 0-4 under Roberts, who replaced Tom Fears midway through the 1970 season.

Here's how the other first-year coaches are doing so far:

Washington, bolstered by a number of veterans brought over from Los Angeles by Allen, is 2-2 after losing to the Colts Saturday.

Buffalo, beaten by Atlanta Sunday, is 2-2 under Harvey Johnson, who replaced John Rauch just after the start of training camp. Johnson, formerly the team's Director of Player Personnel, coached the Bills for most of 1968 and compiled a 1-10-1 record.

Green Bay is 1-3 under Dan Devine, who was 93-37-7 in 13 seasons at the University of Missouri.

St. Louis has won once in three outings under Holloway, a Minnesota Viking aide the past four years.

Cleveland is winless in five outings under Skorich, an assistant to Blanton Collier since 1964 and head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles from 1961-3.

Houston is 2-3 under Ed Hughes, who served for 11 years as an assistant coach.

New England is 1-3 with John Mazur at the helm. Mazur replaced Clive Rush late last season and compiled a 1-4 record.

Defensively, the Sun Devils

Coach Thinks Sun Devils to Be Better

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Arizona State University's Frank Kush is not a football coach given over to unbridled optimism. Some say he is not even given over to optimism.

But Frank Kush said a starting thing the other day. He said his Sun Devils could be better than last year.

Arizona State University won 11 straight games in 1970, extending its winning streak to 17 games. They beat North Carolina, 48-26, in the Peach Bowl and finished the season ranked sixth nationally.

But two of the players most responsible for last year's success, quarterback Joe Spagnola and end J. D. Hill, are gone. There are no individual heirs apparent.

Both offensive guards and both linebackers are also gone.

But if Arizona State can find a good quarterback, Kush says, "it could be one hell of an exciting season. We could develop into one of our better ball clubs. We could be better than last year—disregarding the won-loss record."

Kush, who has never had a losing season in 26 years ranging from high school playing to 13 years as head coach here, qualifies the comments.

Success, he says, depends on the quarterback. And the quarterback who's No. 1 at the moment is Grady Hurst, backup to Spagnola the past two years.

"If Grady does what I think he's capable of, and our receivers stay healthy, we could be better," says Kush. "Hurst is looking better than I had hoped, but he needs confidence."

Two ends will attempt to replace Hill. Both, Calvin Demery and Ed Beverly, are experienced, but both had knee surgery last year due to football injuries.

"They should make up for the loss of Hill in receiving," says Kush, "and Steve Holden (wingback) is a better runner."

In all, six starters are back from the offense that gained more yardage than any other college team last year.

Monroe Eley, the Peace Bowl's Most Valuable Player, is back at halfback, Brent McClanahan returns at fullback and Holden continues at wingback. All are juniors.

Challenging Hurst at quarterback are junior Jim Brady, a Notre Dame transfer, and sophomore Dan White, son of a former ASU football great.

Defensively, the Sun Devils

will be small, but experienced and quick. "People will test us here because of our lack of size," says Kush.

Despite their injury-prone linebackers and relatively small defensive line, the Sun Devils may have to absorb more of a physical beating this season.

They've added Colorado State as an 11th opponent, eliminating a mid-season breather, and Houston of the Southwest Conference, Oregon State of the Pacific 8 and the Air Force Academy are all new to the schedule. ASU hosts Houston in the Sun Devils' season opener here Sept. 18, and Houston will already have played Rice.

The Sun Devils won't have faced anybody—except taskmaster Kush, who was branded as a tyrant by both a national magazine and a television network commentator last year.

"I haven't changed my ways," Kush says with a grin. "As long as I'm coaching it'll be that way. I not only expect discipline on the field, but in personal life as well."

The players are being reminded of the Kush theory of coaching at Camp Tontozona in the Northern Arizona mountains this week.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers defeated the Birmingham Athletics 8-4 here Sunday afternoon, ending a losing streak for the Arkansas team.

It was Birmingham's eighth straight loss. Arkansas has been defeated in five of the last six games.

Trainer Not Yet Resting His Case

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Trainer Mac Miller is not yet resting his case for the best 2-year-old. But by the end of the year his Rest Your Case might be No. 1.

Rest Your Case, racing in the colors of Cragwood Stable, drew away in the final yards Saturday for a one-length victory over previous unbeaten Governor Max in the $128,925 Hopeful Stakes at Saratoga.

Loquacious Don was third in the field of seven juveniles. Calumet Farm's Tarboosh and Plum Bold and Meadow Stable's Riva Ridge, the early favorite was scratched.

Jorge Velasquez sent Rest Your Case over the 6½ furlongs on a sloppy track in 1:17 2-5 for a winning mutual payoff of $15 and first money of $77,355. It was the third victory in seven starts for the $26,000 year, a son of Traffic Judge—Dane Fritchie, who earlier won the Youthful at Aqueduct.

It also was a case of upset at Del Mar, where Howard Grant guided Flag Is Up Farm's Regal Case $31,400 to a head victory over Great Career in the $33,950 Del Mar Derby for 3-year-olds. Time for the 1½ miles on the turf was 1:49.

Gene Mori's Twin Time, the only 3-year-old in the field, won the $58,600 William du Pont Jr. Handicap at Delaware Park Sunday. Ridden by Frank Lovato, Twin Time beat the favored North Flight by a head and paid $16.60. Time for the 1-16 miles was 1:43 1-5.

In other Saturday features: Charles Windle's Cassie Red, $45.80, covered a mile over the grass in 1:36 4-5 for a three-quarters length victory over Follie Rousse in the $29,800 Chicago Handicap at Hawthorn Park.

Jackie Still Shuns Crowds

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Jacqueline Onassis used an empty streetcar to get away from a pushing crowd following the funeral of Prince Edmund Radziwill, brother-in-law of her sister, Lee Radziwill.

Thousands of Warsawians jammed the street outside the small cemetery Saturday and forced Mrs. Onassis to walk through a potato field following the funeral.

Pursued by a jostling crowd into the field, she then turned back and slipped into an empty streetcar immobilized by the throng. Aides and well-wishers held off the crowd and told the driver to pull away. Mrs. Onassis later changed for a waiting car.

Hurley Not Referring to Rep. Pryor

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — W. D. Hurley of Camden said here Sunday night that he was not referring to Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., in a letter written to Deloss Walker concerning a possible candidate against Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., in 1974.

The Arkansas Democrat reported Sunday that Hurley had written to Walker in a letter dated Aug. 27 in an attempt to get Walker's firm to manage the proposed campaign.

Walker managed the successful campaign of Gov. Dale Bumpers and the more recent campaign of William Waller in Mississippi.

Hurley said that Pryor was not the man referred to in the letter — "for that matter, let the record now show neither is anyone who has ever run for any public office."

The letter said that the poten-

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy's only black admiral says commanders should not go beyond equal opportunity orders and give special treatment to black sailors.

Rear Adm. Samuel L. Gravely Jr. said, "We must recognize that equal opportunity means just that and not something special where races, colors and religions are concerned."

Gravely gave his views in "The Naval Institute Proceedings" and elaborated in an interview. The Proceedings is a semi-official publication which provides a forum for Navy and Marine officers.

Hurley said it was too soon to release the name of the candidate.

Hurley said the man alluded to in the letter "is a Christian man of strong convictions, who, it is apparently felt among his associates, has those natural qualities of leadership so necessary today in any public office."

Hurley said he did not mean to say that Pryor should run against Fulbright.

"I merely said, if he wanted a seat in the Senate, it would be in the best interest of the people of the state of Arkansas for him to eventually replace Fulbright, rather than Sen. John L. McClellan."

Hurley said he would support both McClellan and Pryor should they decide to run for re-election to their present positions.

AFRICAN EXCHANGE—Because of the system of apartheid, which the officials of South Africa refer to as "separate development," there's been little musical exchange between South Africa and the United States. The tight controls over emigration make it extremely difficult for black Africans to gain permission to leave that country. One of the few groups which has made it is called The Union of South Africa. The Union is really America's first Afro-rock band and they're still negotiating to bring several other South African musicians to America.

American tours to South Africa might open up a musical exchange. Brook Benton will be doing a tour there in September. For his four-week engagement Benton, who is black, has been guaranteed the largest sum ever offered an artist in that country: a minimum gross of $2.5 million with a potential gross of $4 million.

An album recorded live at the concert will be produced along with a TV special of the tour. Benton's recent hit, "A Rainy Night in Georgia," will be redone for South African sales as "A Rainy Night in Durban."

THE END OF THE WHOLE EARTH—The last Whole Earth Catalogue, which gives some background info on the publication by its founder, Stewart Brand, is going for $5. ## Weather Is Pleasant in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pleasant weather that prevailed over Arkansas during the weekend was expected to continue through Tuesday.

The National Weather Service said a high pressure system centered over West Virginia today was controlling the state's weather.

The high pressure has kept skies clear to partly cloudy with temperatures in the 80s during the day and 50s and 60s at night.

The Weather Service said as the high continued its eastward movement, an increased flow of moisture from the Gulf should trigger some shower activity. Early today, however, the Weather Service was only calling for about a 20 per cent chance of showers until Tuesday.

The forecast called for partly cloudy and mild through Tuesday with a slight chance of showers.

The extended outlook called for mostly fair through Friday with a chance of showers.

Highs around the state Sunday ranged from 82 at Fayetteville and Harrison to 86 at Jonesboro.

Overnight lows included 54 at Fayetteville, 58 at Harrison, 61 at Jonesboro, 68 at Pine Bluff, 62 at Texarkana, 62 at El Dorado, 66 at Memphis, 62 at Little Rock and 59 at Fort Smith.

No precipitation was reported in the 24-hour period that ended at 7 a.m. today.

black or white—he should be given special consideration," Gravely said. But there should be no preferential treatment for blacks over whites in this or any other group, he said.

Gravely suggested also that a black, like any other sailor, should be given a petty officer job only if qualified and should not be "carried" if he is not performing properly.

Without naming names, Gravely cited a case in which a black gunner's mate applied for a course in basic electricity but was found to be deficient.

The sailor's commanding officer was willing to reconsider if the man put in some extra study for the course, Gravely said. But the gunner's mate refused to use his free time this way, and his application was rejected.

"This black petty officer cannot possibly say he was not given fair treatment," Gravely wrote.

"Extra or special consideration for this young man could have brought on fractionalization in that command and the commanding officer would have gone too far if he had recommended him."

Gravely, who came up from the ranks, implied that some commanders are inconsistent and uncertain in their interpretations of equal opportunity orders issued by Secretary of the Navy John Chafee and Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr., the Chief of Naval Operations.

"We must quit pussyfooting," he said. "I say read them, understand them, and implement them."

Pope Discusses Civil Trouble

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI has blamed the suspension of some civil liberties by the government of riot-torn Northern Ireland for a worsening of the situation in fighting between Roman Catholics, Protestants and British army troops.

"We invoke divine help, so that those who want to work for peaceful solution of the various problems—social, historical—are illuminated and sustained," the pontiff said during a Sunday noon blessing the summer papal palace here.

Turns Into a Rescue Cruise

BURNHAM-ON-CROUCH, England (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath turned a picnic cruise aboard his yacht Morning Cloud into a rescue operation.

Heath and his eight-man crew were sailing home Sunday when they spotted a teen-aged boy and girl clinging to an overturned racing dinghy.

"Do you wish to be rescued?" Heath called. The youngsters said they did and they were pulled aboard Heath's boat.

The Morning Cloud's sailing master explained Heath's question by saying that dinghy sailors sometimes prefer to right their own craft so they "can carry on racing."

The two teen-agers were not identified.

Skyscraper Cemeteries Possibility

SÃO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — A future visitor to a gravesite in Sao Paulo may ride up an elevator 30 or 40 floors rather than make the conventional trip to the far-off grassy field on the outskirts of the city.

The population is going up, the accident rate is going up, the mortality rate is going up and all the while the available land space is diminishing.

So Sao Paulo city planners are thinking of making the cemeteries go up.

Plans under study by the mayor's office call for the construction of high-rise cemetery buildings in lieu of expanding present burial grounds or setting aside new ones.

"Sao Paulo is a city where it is becoming increasingly difficult to die," architect Fernando Martins Gomes told an interviewer.

Martins Gomes is the man credited here with introducing the idea of the "vertical cemetery" as a solution to the problems of overcrowded cemeteries and decreasing land area.

The vertical cemetery, Martins Gomes said, "would prevent the trappings of death from becoming more lugubrious than death itself."

He explained that high-rise cemeteries which are architecturally integrated into the urban landscape would eliminate some of the complexities of modern-day dying. He mentioned the transfer of the corpse to a wake site and the morose trek to the stone-covered field.

The high-rise cemetery would contain a morgue, autopsy facilities, funeral parlors and a bar and meeting room for visitors as well as a parking lot.

In terms of space, a proposed 40-story cemetery could be built in an area of 52 x 104 yards and would have room for 40,000 "gravesites." By comparison, this city's second largest cemetery holds 30,000 dead, and takes up a lot more ground.

With ever-increasing population, space continues to be an acute concern of Sao Paulo officials. The growth of the city has been so rapid municipal services cannot maintain the pace.

In 1960 Sao Paulo had a population of 3.8 million. Today, six million people are crammed within the city limits. Another two million inhabit the outlying areas.

Sao Paulo is bigger in area—576 square miles—than Los Angeles with 458 and is No. 2 in population in the Western Hemisphere. All indications are that it will overtake New York by 1980.

On top of this growth problem, Sao Paulo has discovered it has a markedly high death rate: 8.2 per thousand inhabitants compared to 7.1 in Japan and 7.6 in Canada.

Mayor Dresses Yogi-fashion for Rap Talks

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) —

Dressed in sports shirt, slacks and loafers, Mayor Wes Wise squatted yogi-fashion in Lee Park to "rap" with the hippies. It was the final "Rap with the Establishment" session of the year for the informal Lee Park Free University, which has provided noncredit courses in a variety of subjects during the past two summers. The open-air project has been credited with "cooling" the park's atmosphere.

While a rock band blared in the distance Sunday night, the longhairs fired questions and criticism at Wise.

Their main complaint: Some restaurants and ice cream parlors won't serve them and the Dallas police act tough.

Wise asked for a list of eating places that discriminate against hippies and said he would see what the city attorney could do. Complaints about the police, he said, could always be brought to the city council. His audience looked skeptical on both counts.

"Would Mayor Daley do this in Chicago?" the 41-year-old Wise asked. "Would Mayor Alioto in San Francisco?"

And a hippie-type responded to a newsman: "No, I don't believe Daley would've come out here. He'd be scared, but I kinda think Alioto might."

Lee Park is located in what was once an elite housing area. Now the area is a little run down. The park people have taken over some of the older buildings for community homes. Other buildings house drug treatment facilities and crash pads for runaway teenagers.

The park itself earned a bad reputation as the scene of murders, shootings, stabbings, drug trafficking and rape.

"It's a trouble spot and a good place to get hurt," said one officer on the Lee Park beat.

Last summer seven Dallas citizens solicited donations and obtained permission from the Parks Board to start Lee Park Free University.

"A lot of beautiful things have happened here," said bearded Chapman Kelley, owner of a local art gallery who is one of the seven. "Some of the kids found they liked learning and have gone back to school. Other kids started bringing their parents along. The generations are learning to communicate again."

The Free University had about 1,000 students the first year, but the number dropped to around 800 this summer.

"We don't know why," explained Dr. Henry Lanz, another of the founding fathers. "There just aren't so many of the kids hanging around this year. They seem to be leaving Dallas."

Russian to Visit N. Vietnam

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny will lead a delegation of Russian leaders on a "visit of friendship" to North Vietnam in early October, the Soviet news agency Tass reports.

The agency did not say Sunday how long Podgorny would stay in North Vietnam, or give further details of the purpose of the visit.

Mrs. Glen Ammons of Hope Rt. 4 shows the "Indian" potatoes she grew in her flower beds this year. Mrs. Ammons said only one hill of five she planted produced. She said that they tasted like sweet potatoes.

Tourism Big Business in U.S. Capital

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

Catering to tourists and conventions is the biggest business, next to government, in the nation's capital and those who keep count of the visitors say this is a slack year.

"It's the economy, people just don't have the money to spend," said Floyd Kirby, chief guide the Capitol, expressing the views of the others interviewed.

"It's not just Washington, the rest of the hotels in the country are having the same problem," said Leonard Hickman, executive vice president of the Hotel Association of the District of Columbia. "People come here, but maybe they just stay a day or two rather than a week."

The number of people filling hotel and motel accommodations is considered one of the best barometers of the tourist and convention business.

As of Aug. 1, Hickman said, business was down 9.1 per cent from last year.

He said, however, part of the drop may be because of a number of motels that have sprung up in suburban Maryland and Virginia that are not included in his count.

Another major measure of the number of tourists is the bus tours. The biggest line here, Gray's Sightseeing Tours, estimates business is about 10 per cent below 1970.

And nosecounts at the major tourist attractions—the Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, White House and Capitol—are running below last year.

The biggest drop came in May, the month of a big anti-war demonstration. Things have picked up some the past couple months.

The Washington Convention and Business Bureau had hoped for 19 to 20 million visitors this year to continue the climb from a slump to 15.3 million after 1968 riots that followed the death of Martin Luther King.

But now it is doubtful the figure will equal the record high of 17.8 million visitors who spent an estimated record $642 million here last year.

Convention business is slightly off, too, the bureau said, from the record 704 of 1969. But it's hoped the 1970 figure of 670 will be topped.

No one can explain it but the pattern of visitors is up and down at the White House.

Last year 1,388,565 persons filed through the executive mansion.

During the first three months of this year, the number of visitors was down somewhat. But in April the number of visitors leaped ahead of last year.

The number of visitors dropped again in May and June. But July showed an increase over last year and August was expected to do likewise.

The only count at the Capitol is of people who take the guided tours and, despite the elimination of the 25-cent charge, this year's totals have run below last year every month since February.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Doctor in Doubt

"I did my best." So said a doctor not long ago when a disgruntled patient sued him for malpractice. It seems that the patient had been suffering for eight years from a surgical wound that would not heal. Now, demanding damages, he told the court:

"I realize that the doctor did his best. The trouble is, his best was not good enough. After all these years, he must have realized his own limitations. What he should have done was to send me to a specialist."

The court agreed, and the doctor was held liable. The court said that when a doctor has (or ought to have) serious doubts about his ability to handle a case, he has the legal duty to send the patient to someone who is better qualified.

A similar duty rests on other practitioners of the healing arts. Take this case:

A drugless healer, treating a man who had severe abdominal pains, gave him a vigorous massage and a strong laxative. Result: the man died from a ruptured appendix. In due course, his widow sued the healer for malpractice.

At the trial, he insisted that he had used the best treatment according to his own school of thought. Nevertheless, the court ordered him to pay damages. With plain signs of possible appendicitis, said the court, he should have turned the case over to a regular doctor.

Of course, the mere fact that a treatment is unsuccessful does not mean the doctor was at fault. In another case a boy's broken leg, set by the family doctor, healed with some permanent stiffness. The family, claiming damages, blamed the doctor for not calling in a specialist.

But the doctor explained: "This was not an unusual case. I have often handled similar fractures, and there was no special reason for me to expect trouble with this one."

The court decided this was a legitimate defense, and dismissed the case. Noting that medicine is not an exact science, the judge said no one would dare to be a doctor if he had to guarantee perfect results every time.

Fears War Claiming Art Treasure

By PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) —

American art lovers fear the Indochina war might be claiming a major cultural treasure—the ruins of Angkor in Cambodia.

The massive, thousand-year-old capital was revealed to the world when French explorers tore away its jungle abroad earlier this century.

The French later excavated superb stone and bronze statues, and reconstructed a score of noble buildings including Angkor Wat, one of the largest temples ever raised by man.

But today the rapidly growing jungles are reclaiming the 40-square-mile of Angkor because the Vietnam war spread to Cambodia last year and drove out the battalions of laborers needed to maintain the area.

Communist forces—either North Vietnamese, or Cambodian guerrillas or both—have occupied Angkor for nearly a year and there is the constant danger that fighting might break out amidst the ruins.

Some of the major statues had been previously secretly reburied to protect them against thieves and war damage.

American art lovers see as much urgency in the race to save Angkor as they did in efforts in the 1960s to rescue the ancient temples of Abu Simbel which were threatened with inundation in the Nile Lake created by Egypt's Aswan Dam.

Art experts believe that without adequate care, the massive temple reconstructions that were painstakingly put together over 50 years of French colonial rule, will be torn apart by jungle growth, and covered with lichen and other damaging, corrosive plants.

The Indochina war hovers at the edge of Angkor. The ancient capital lies west of the Mekong River and therefore outside the main battlegrounds. But artillery fire has already damaged an important wall of bas reliefs, and under an agreement with the Cambodian government the Thai Air Force has prerogatives to bomb west of the Mekong.

The danger of war damage and the natural disintegration of the temples led American art lovers to express early concern over the fate of Angkor. Museum curators and art professors formed an "Ad Hoc Committee of 100" last year to urge the U.S. government to take all possible measures to help.

Opposed to Pot

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

More Facts Are Needed

Dear Dr. Lamb—Do you believe that alcohol is safer to use than marijuana? Would you prefer to be treated by a doctor who was boozed up on Scotch or one who'd smoked a few joints? Would you rather meet head-on with a driver who had spent the evening in a bar or one going home from a pot party? Do you opt for a death from cirrhosis of the liver or whatever the ultimate from pot smoking?

If you honestly choose alcohol, please state this in a column. I'm not particularly approving of marijuana, but I'm sick of imbibers of alcohol and their holier-than-thou attitudes. I use neither.

GETTING INTO the big undressing act on stage and screen these days, Dean Martin sheds a few clothes for a new picture, "Something Big." But this is as far as Hollywood's usually best-dressed actor goes.

Dear Reader—Must I choose between being hopped up on pot or stoned on alcohol? I'd rather not. I have frequently discussed the ill effects of alcohol, including liver disease, damage to the pancreas, brain and digestive tract. I have pointed out that alcohol is the biggest drug problem in high school and college. Now that doesn't mean I am going to endorse marijuana either, so if that is what you want, you might as well forget it.

I reported the American Medical Assn. view on marijuana as an index of the official opinion of medicine. Since then, many people have written insisting that I state my opinion on pot. So I will.

There is so much controversy because there are not enough facts to make the answer obvious. I am, however, totally opposed to the idea. The drug problem in this country is very dangerous. I know of too many instances of young impressionable people starting off on "the joint" and ending up on "the needle," or with a permanently damaged brain or even suicide. How can I condone such a thing?

You may argue that they didn't need to go to hard drugs but, in truth, a certain number do. One can escape the danger—and children can run freely across a heavily traveled four-lane highway without getting killed. But that doesn't prove it is either safe or intelligent.

The young people I admire are the nonconformists who are able to resist the call of the masses to come join them in dangerous experiments. The pot smoker today in our schools is not a rebel, but the very prototype of a real conformist, without the capacity to think independently. We may not know all the evils of marijuana, but can you list the wonderful benefits from this habit? The question is not just whether it is bad or not bad, but is it good? Must we learn the answers not now available by human tragedy? I don't think it is smart, but stupid to smoke marijuana, or to use any form of nar-

Then, after the first month, continue this "extra cash" coverage at Physicians' low rates.

During this Limited Enrollment Period, you can enroll yourself and all eligible members of your family simply by mailing the Enrollment Form below with $1. There's nothing else to do—but you must mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, Sept. 4, 1971!

Think of it. Now, with a stroke of your pen, you can have tax-free, expense-free extra cash paid direct to you when a sudden accident or unexpected illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family! And you may enroll during this Limited Enrollment Period without having to see a company representative and without any red tape whatsoever. All you need do is mail the Enrollment Form below together with just $1 before the expiration date. It's that easy!

Why You Need Extra Cash
In Addition To Ordinary Hospital Insurance
Anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket—and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time. But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home?

If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job—or hire full-time domestic help—to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized, you will certainly spare no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

If you're over 65 and are suddenly hospitalized, Medicare, fine as it is, won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to use up savings it may have taken a lifetime to accumulate...they want to retain their independence and not become a "burden" to their children or community.

Without "extra cash" protection, a hospital emergency may leave you with savings gone, debts you can't pay, peace of mind shattered—even your recovery can be seriously delayed by money worries!

How The Plan Protects You And Your Family
Now, with the unique "extra cash" protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of extra cash income when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation and without any qualifications whatsoever, you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the "extra cash" hospital benefits, you get all these valuable "extra" features:

Your "Health-Bank Account" Grows Each Month

Here's a wonderful benefit, no matter which plan you choose—almost like having an extra "Bank Account." When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account."

Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum! When you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from your "account." It's much like putting money in and taking it out of a bank account.

Enjoy Life-Long Security

For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid.

You May Actually Come Out "Money Ahead"

Because The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any other company's health insurance you carry—individual, group or even Medicare—and because all your extra cash benefits are tax-free, you may leave the hospital many dollars ahead...money you don't have to account for to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Enroll For Only $1

Regardless of your age, the size of your family, or the plan you select, you get your first month for only $1.00. If you choose the All-Family Plan—all your eligible children (including future additions) are included at no extra cost. (See box at right for low rates.)

Extra Cash Protection At Surprisingly Low Cost

How can a hospital plan offer so much for so little? The answer is simple: We have lower total sales costs. The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. All business is conducted between you and the company by mail. No salesmen will call. It all adds up to real savings we share with you by giving you high quality protection at low cost.

Offered By Physicians Mutual "The Doctors Company"

Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and reputation of the Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company," specializing in health and accident protection for physicians, surgeons and dentists for more than 68 years. Dunne's Insurance Reports, one of the leading insurance industry authorities in the nation, gives Physicians Mutual its highest policyholders' rating of "A Plus (Excellent)." If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the All-Family Plan. All your children (including future additions) between 3 months of age and under 21 are included at no extra cost as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

You pay only $7.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.

If you have no children, or if your children are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the Husband-Wife Plan.

ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $214.20 monthly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

On all plans, your "extra cash" benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, right up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you select.

Naturally The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover any new accident or sickness. New accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for new sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof

(unless you have the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, each of which covers maternity after the policy is in force for 10 months), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or conditions covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

You are free to go to any lawfully operated hospital of your own choice, with these exceptions only: nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.

SPECIAL EXTRA BENEFITS!

Whichever plan you choose, you get:
50% INCREASE IN YOUR CASH BENEFITS...if you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction), coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion, or stroke (apoplexy).

If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition:

DOUBLE CASH BENEFITS if both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time: You get twice the amount—$1,499.40 A MONTH!

Important: Here is another real "plus"—if you have been told that anyone in your family is "uninsurable"! Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past—ailments that come back again and again, or are likely to recur—you will be covered for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for one year!

IF YOU ARE OVER 65

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. During this limited enrollment, you can get the extra cash protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any qualifications just by using the form below!

It's a fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have larger hospital bills. That's exactly why they need extra cash protection! And that's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan not only accepts you regardless of age, it gives you easy-to-carry protection that is within your means. If you are over 65 now, or when you become 65, the following modest monthly additional rate applies:

Female on All-Family or Husband-Wife Plan	$2.50
Female on One-Parent Family or Individual Plan	3.50
Male on any Plan	3.50

son whatsoever you change your mind you may return your policy within 10 days and we will promptly refund your dollar.

IMPORTANT: We can only accept your enrollment if it is postmarked on or before the date shown below. But please don't wait until the last moment. The sooner we receive your form, the sooner The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover you. You risk nothing by acting promptly. You may lose hundreds of dollars in "extra cash" benefits through needless delays. Mail your enrollment form today!

If you have no children as yet, or if you have children who are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN.

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the ALL-FAMILY PLAN. You and your wife are covered at once for accidents, for new sicknesses after 30 days, and for maternity benefits after 10 months. All days, and for future additions) between 3 months and under 21 are included, at no extra cost, as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. This covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

6. If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin?

On all plans, your cash benefits are paid from the very first day of covered hospital confinement, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you choose.

7. How much can I be paid?

Each plan has its own "Aggregate of Benefits," what we call the maximum.

For example, under the INDIVIDUAL PLAN, the maximum is $5,000—$428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized.

Under the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.

Yes, you receive a 50% increase in cash benefits if you or any covered family member is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

9. What are the "double" cash benefits?

If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time and are covered by the ALL-FAMILY or HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, you get double cash benefits. You get twice the amount—$1,499.40 A MONTH!

10. Does this plan pay in any hospital?

You will be covered in any lawfully operated hospital except nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.

11. When does my policy go into force?

It becomes effective the very same day we receive your Enrollment Form. New accidents are covered on that date. After your policy is 30 days old, new sicknesses which begin thereafter are covered. Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN and the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, childbirth or pregnancy or any consequence thereof is covered after your policy is in force for 10 months.

12. What if someone in my family has had a health problem that may occur again?

Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past, pre-existing conditions are covered after the policy has been in force for one year.

13. What conditions aren't covered?

Only those minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof unless you have the ALL-

FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or if something happens "on the job" and is covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

14. Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?

We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—for as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums. We guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy or change your rates unless we do so on all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid. You, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.

15. Why is The Doctors Hospital Plan almost like having an extra "bank account"?

When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500 or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account." Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, benefits are subtracted from your "account!"

16. How do I claim my cash benefits?

With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form, which you send directly to the company when you want to claim your cash benefits.

17. Why are the premiums so low?

With The Doctors Hospital Plan, you actually get all these benefits—at such a low cost—because this is a mass enrollment plan—and no salesman will call. Our volume is higher and our total sales costs are lower.

18. How much does my first month cost?

Only $1.00, regardless of your age, the size of your family or the plan you select. After the first month, if you are under 65, you pay: only $3.95 a month for the INDIVIDUAL PLAN; only $6.45 a month for the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN; only $7.95 a month for the ALL-FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. (When you are over 65, premiums increase. See modest increase in box above.)

19. Why should I enroll right now?

Because an unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.
